RESEARCH PROJECTS

e-learning National Active Charter Training (e-NACT), WP 3: Children's Protection

European University Institute / University of Florence

The research consisted in the gathering of EU secondary law and case-law of the European Court of Justice (ECJ) aimed at fulfilling the Project "e-Learning National Active Charter Training (e-NACT)", which is co-funded by the European Commission (DG Justice, JUST-AG-2016-04). The main purpose of the research is to collect and classify EU secondary law and ECJ's case-law concerning the rights of the child. The research has been cross-sectoral, considering relevant EU law and case-law in fields such as the free movement of minors that are EU citizens or family members of EU citizens, immigration and asylum law, judicial cooperation in the civil and criminal fields, as well as police cooperation. Furthermore, a case-law research about relevant case-law in the Member States partners to the Project was required. This part of the research has been accomplished in close cooperation with the judges appointed as national contact points by the Judicial School participating to the Project, as well as with the Italian Ombudsperson for the rights of children and adolescences. Among the scientific outputs of the research there is the Handbook gathering the collected material. English has been the main working language in all project's activities.
